THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.

THERAPION is a popular remedy, used in the Continental Hospitals by Blaud, Broussais, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combined all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed. THERAPION No. 1 maintains its world-renowned and well-merited reputation for derangement of the kidneys, pains in the back, and tired limbs, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless. THERAPION No. 2 for impurity of the blood, leucorrhoea, piles, eczema, blotches, and swelling of joints, gout, rheumatism, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, Iodine, etc., to the destruction of sufferers' limbs and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates all noxious matter from the body. THERAPION No. 3 for exhaustion, sleeplessness, and all distressing consequences of overwork, worry, overwork, etc. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to those suffering from the enervating influences of long residence in hot, unhealthy climates. THERAPION is sold by the principal chemists and druggists throughout the world. Price in England, 2s. 6d. and 1s. 6d. In the United States, the price of the three numbers is required, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the British Government Stamp (the white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

THE MINOR AGRICULTURAL RESOURCES OF HAWAII

Things That Have Been and Can be Grown Here at a Profit--Some Statistics for the Doubting Thomases.

The current number of the Forester and Agriculturist says:

In the Governor's report for 1903 the following statement is made: "Rice is inevitably a diminishing product, both from the competition of the new rice fields of Texas and Louisiana and the diminishing numbers of Chinese in the Territory." For the first time, probably, since rice-growing was started in the Hawaiian Islands, rice this year disappears from the list of exports. Owing to lack of labor the rice planters are in a bad way and imported rice now rules the local market. As the Hawaiian rice fields are the most productive of any in the Union, other things being equal they ought at least to supply the local demand. This demand is large, as rice is the chief food of the thousands of Asiatic laborers on the sugar plantations. According to the census of 1900 Hawaii was third in production of rice among all the States and Territories. There were in Hawaii in 1899 504 rice farms with an area of 91,300 acres, which produced 33,442,400 pounds of rice, valued at $1,562,051. The acreage was 2.6 per cent, the production 11.8 per cent, and the value 10.8 per cent of the total percentages for the whole country. The average number of acres per farm was 181, the average production per acre 366.29 pounds, and the average value per acre $171.09. Louisiana, the leader in rice production, for the same year had an average production of 856.4 pounds, with an average value of crop per acre of $20.05. South Carolina's average yield per acre was 609.9 pounds, and average value per acre $17.60. Lands suitable for rice cultivation are limited in area, yet have never been fully occupied where they do exist. Possibly rice growing might be restored here to its former condition of profit if the labor-saving methods of the Southern States were applied.

Fruits.—Slowly but surely the fruit industry of Hawaii is making advances. Bananas, which a few years ago constituted about the sole fruit export, are now being cultivated, packed and shipped to San Francisco with more scientific method in each of those respects than ever before. At Hilo, the chief port of the Island of Hawaii, especially is the industry assuming goodly proportions. A few years ago Hilo did no direct exporting of the fruit, but this year it ships from 5000 to 10,000 bunches of bananas by direct steamer to San Francisco every month. Reports from there are that the Hilo bananas are the best ever received in San Francisco. That the market is good for a greatly increased supply may be gathered from the fact that $8,541,156 worth of bananas was imported to the mainland for the year 1902-3, of which quantity the proportional consumption of the western division of the country is estimated at $457,935 in value. As Hawaii shipped bananas to the value of but $77,749 for the year ending June 30, 1904, it will be seen that there is a large margin for expansion of the industry.

Pineapples, both raw and preserved, are being exported in steadily increasing quantity. The cultivation and canning of this fruit is largely in the hands of incorporated companies. Oriental labor being the chief reliance. Pineapples to the value of $4,022 were shipped hence for the year ending June 30, 1904. The imports of pineapples to the United States for 1902-1903 were estimated at a value of $837,368. Hawaiian pineapples are of very fine quality. Successful experiments having been made of shipping the fresh article as far east as New York, the only limitations to the pineapple industry are those of land and labor.

Oranges from time without date have grown wild on the different islands, large quantities being marketed in Honolulu. Some of the fruit is well-flavored and there is no doubt that well-cultivation a profitable industry might be built up in oranges. Limes thrive but have never been raised in quantity approaching the local demand.

Various Articles.—Coffee was exported the past year to the value of $169,172, besides which there was a large amount of Hawaiian coffee consumed at home. Our coffee has a flavor second to none, but, by reason of the small amount exported, it has yet to be classed in the world's market. A great expansion of coffee raising a few years ago ended in almost general failure, owing chiefly to bad selection of location. Hawaii, it must be remembered, has variations of climate within its own confines, owing to the influence of mountains and prevailing winds, which are probably found in but few other countries within a corresponding area. Several coffee planters fortunate enough to have secured fit locations for the plant are doing well. They are gradually working up a strong demand for the article in mainland centers by intelligent efforts at placing their crops, and more particularly by shipping only the higher grades.

A little zeal on the part of the Washington authorities—not to mention the patriotic regard they may be presumed to have for this integral part of the Union—would bring about the exclusive consumption of American coffee by the army and navy. This, together with a protective tariff on the foreign article, would tend materially to increase the production in this Territory as well as in the Philippines and Porto Rico—for the "insular possessions" should have their prosperity as sedulously promoted by national statesmen as that of the States and Territories. The good fame of the common flag over all is involved.

Fiber material already casually mentioned gives great promise for a lucrative new industry. Appearing for the first time in the list of exports—excepting from the long extinct trade in pulu fern fiber for upholstering stuffs—fibers account for $2653 of last year's exports. This amount was the product of one company's operations confined to the sisal plant. The fact that all expenses had been paid and a dividend declared on the first crop milled speaks loudly for this enterprise. No doubt there is a fine opportunity for profit in fibers as by-products of the pineapple, banana and other agricultural industries.

This question is engaging attention. Paper pulp from sugar cane trash is also a new subject of inquiry which may develop into great things.

Honey was exported to the value of $14,346 for the year ending June 30, 1904. There is practically no limit to the development of this industry. Established apiaries rate here as a high class of investment, though the industry is quite young.

Roots, herbs and barks show for $6139 in the exports of the year past. With the assistance of scientific investigation into the Hawaiian flora, very lucrative sources of wealth might be discovered under this head. Many indigenous plants contributed to the materia medica of the old Hawaiians.

List Endless.—There is no doubt that products of the tropics too numerous to mention are capable of cultivation, more or less easy, in this Territory, some suitable for export in the natural state and others affording the raw material for valuable articles of commerce, such as preserves, condiments, spices, perfumery, tannin, drugs and chemicals, cordage and textile fiber, etc. As former Governor Dole's last report, that of 1903, gives a catalogue of what may be called the certainties, the probabilities and the possibilities of Hawaiian products, it is here reproduced with the introductory paragraph thereto, viz.:

The following is a list of such plants of value, not including timber trees or plants raised for flowers, as experience has demonstrated to be productive in the Territory. Another list names those that may be profitably cultivated as shown by the fact that they have become staple products; still another gives those that are in the experimental stage, and a fourth those whose cultivation is likely to be profitable in the Territory in the future. The list is by no means complete, but approximately covers the ground:

Miss Agnes Miller, of Chicago, speaks to young women about dangers of the Menstrual Period.

"TO YOUNG WOMEN:—I suffered for six years with dysmenorrhea (painful periods), so much so that I dreaded every month, as I knew it meant three or four days of intense pain. The doctor said this was due to an inflamed condition of the uterine appendages caused by repeated and neglected colds. "If young girls only realized how dangerous it is to take cold at this critical time, much suffering would be spared them. Thank God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that was the only medicine which helped me any. Within three weeks after I started to take it, I noticed a marked improvement in my general health, and at the time of my next monthly period the pain had diminished considerably. I kept up the treatment, and was cured a month later. I am like another person since. I am in perfect health, my eyes are brighter, I have added 12 pounds to my weight, my color is good, and I feel light and happy."—Miss AGNES MILLER, 25 Potomac Ave., Chicago, Ill.—$5000 forfeit if original above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The monthly sickness reflects the condition of a woman's health. Anything unusual at that time should have prompt and proper attention.

THE MARKET STILL OPEN

Japanese Who Gave Up
Stalls Want Them Back Again.

There is still a chance for the Public Market to hold its own, if not to recover its exclusive commerce, notwithstanding the doom pronounced upon it by an evening paper on Wednesday.

One of the new private markets near King street bridge—the one farthest back from the street—is practically abandoned as a result of the recent movement of Japanese fishermen to stalls in the Public Market.

As to the other private market the Chinese stall-holders there have successfully stood out against the Japanese cornering movement. A number of the Japanese fishermen stayed with these Chinese dealers, supplying them with all the fish they needed. Consequently, when some Japanese lately gave up their stalls in the Public Market and tried to do business again with the Chinese just mentioned they met with a rebuff.

The Chinese did not want their fish. This is the reason that no less than five applications were on file with C. M. White, clerk of market, in the Public Works office yesterday from Japanese to get back the stalls in the Public Market which they had but recently surrendered. Now they may have to take reinstatement without the concessions of certain advantages which formed an inducement in the original leases.

COULD SCARCELY WALK.—Mr. G. S. Purton, a resident of Kyneton, Victoria, Australia, says: "Some time ago I was attacked with severe pains and stiffness in my legs, which affected me so that I could scarcely walk, when I was recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm by our local chemist, Mr. Stredwick. I have used it once a day since, and have experienced wonderful relief. I am indeed grateful for the good it has done me and shall be happy to recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to anyone suffering from a similar complaint." For sale by all dealers. At the baseball meeting last night the following days were drawn for practice next week: Monday, Kams; Tuesday, H. A. C.; Wednesday, P. A. C.; Thursday, Elks; Friday, Mailes.

FREE TO MEN, AND WOMEN, TOO!

Do you want to be a big, husky man, with vim and power in your every action, with courage, self-confidence and ambition to "do things"? Do you want to get rid of that feeling of gloom, that weakness in your back, that nervous, worn-out feeling which unfits you for business or pleasure?

Do you want to feel like a man all over, to hold up your head with the knowledge that you are the man that nature meant you to be?

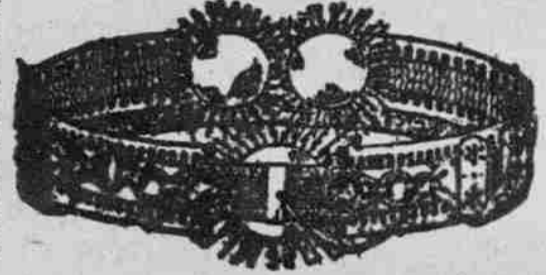

I know that no man remains a weakling because he wants to. I am sure that you want to overcome every indication of early decay that has shown itself on you. I don't think the man lives who would not like to feel as big and strong as a Sandow, and I know that if you have a reasonable foundation to build upon I can make you a bigger man than you ever hoped to be. I want you to know that, you who can't believe it, and I want you to have my book in which I describe how I learned that strength was only electricity, and how I learned to restore it; also I want to tell you the names of some men who will tell you that when they came to me they were physical wrecks, and are now among the finest specimens of physical manhood.

I can do just as much for women as for men. I have thousands of letters from grateful women, who had spent years and money trying to get relief from drugs, and who came to me as a last resort and are cured now.

Why should you be suffering when you know that your friends and neighbors are being cured? Why, if money you spend for drugs in a few months, if invested in my treatment, will assure you health and happiness for life. Don't you believe it? Then send for this book with the proof that I can give you, and you will be convinced.

Don't wait a minute. Send for this book now. If you will inclose this ad. I will send it sealed, free, and will give you the names of your own neighbors who are cured. I will tell you whether I can cure you or not, if you will tell me your troubles.
